

THREE LOSE LIVES IN LODGING HOUSE FIRE

Portland, Or., April 29.—Four bodies, so badly burned that identification has not yet been made, were taken this morning from the ruins of several frame buildings destroyed in the block bounded by East Ninth, East Tenth, Washington and Stark streets shortly before midnight. The debris is being explored for further victims.

The fire was discovered in a warehouse owned by J. J. Kaddery, and spread with great rapidity to the other buildings in the block which include several dwellings. The buildings burned are supported by piling and the flames were swept under them by heavy underdraught.

It was estimated that 25 persons were sleeping in the row of burned dwellings, but all were believed to have escaped until the first body found after the fire had been extinguished.

The fire was replete with narrow escape, a number of persons groping their way through the smoke-filled houses to the streets, or leaping from the second story windows.

The loss is estimated at $15,000. The dead are believed to be Joe O'Neil, a laborer; Alex Stewart, a laborer, and Dick Hall, a cook. John Anderson, a gardener, is missing.

Three bodies were recovered this morning but the remains were so charred and disfigured that identification was impossible.

The men who lost their lives resided on the second floor of a frame tenement at 487 1/2 East Washington street. W. Davidson, who also had rooms on this floor, is the only one known to have escaped with his life.

The lower floor was occupied by Joe McHenry, a horse trader, who succeeded in getting into the street with his bedding.

The fire was one of the hottest and wildest that Portland has ever had. Various reasons are given as its cause, but all that is definitely known is that it started in the room of the basement at the house numbered 483 East Washington street.

The loss is estimated at $15,000. About 25 persons lived in the destroyed buildings, and there were a number of narrow escapes.

The buildings destroyed included a hardware warehouse owned by J. J. Kaddery and three adjoining frame tenement structures. The buildings formed a veritable fire trap, built on piles over a gulch. An underdraught carried the flames rapidly. The whole place was a mass of ashes in 10 minutes.

day en route to Canon City from Fort Russell. The troops carried the latest rifles and had two machine guns.

At 1 o'clock this morning a detachment of the Fifth cavalry left Fort Leavenworth for Trinidad. Major William Holbrook was in command.

Comparative quiet prevailed through out the strike zone today. Militiamen reached Louisville last night after the strike leaders had declared a temporary truce at the Hecla and Vulcan mines. All firing had ceased but the militia immediately occupied the mines and hills and dispersed the strikers.

It was estimated that 20,000 shots were fired at Hecla yesterday. Throughout the day 400 miners lay in an irrigation ditch and attacked the Hecla stockade. Late in the afternoon officers turned water into the ditch in an effort to rout the strikers but failed. The miners stood in water up to their arm pits but kept up a continual fire. Three strikers and three strikebreakers were wounded during the firing, two probably fatally.

The Hecla guards were stationed in a huge blockhouse inside a stockade, raised above the other buildings. A machine gun was arranged inside so as to swing in any direction. It kept up a constant fire for ten hours yesterday.

At Walsenburg, in the southern Colorado fields, firing was still in progress today. Except for a lull of two hours late yesterday, firing has been practically continuous for 48 hours in the vicinity of the Robinson, Walsen and McNally mines. Two were known to be dead and six wounded, several probably fatally. The last reports were yesterday said the militiamen were shelling the position of the strikers and that the latter were answering and holding their own.

MANY WILL CELEBRATE ON "FOUNDER'S DAY"

Under the auspices of the Oregon Pioneer Association the 71st anniversary of "Founder's Day" will be celebrated at Champeog Saturday, May 2. It is expected that a large number of Salem people will motor down to the historic spot on the banks of the Willamette if the weather is fair. Otherwise conveyance will be by means of trains. This event is the fourteenth celebration of the anniversary, and visitors from all parts of the Willamette valley are expected to be present. In addition to the regular celebration, special memorial services for Hon. Francis Xavier Matthien, who died at his pioneer homestead at Butteville last February, will be held.

Judge Peter H. D'Arcy of this city will be president of the day. The memorial address will be given by Hon. Charles B. Moore, of Portland. Short addresses will be made by pioneer men and women, vocal music by the veteran's quartet, which consists of W. M. Morse, Dr. J. E. Hall, A. W. Mills, and Prof. Z. M. Parvin; and a basket picnic and social reunion.

"Father" Matthien, in whose memory the special services will be held, was the last survivor of that historic convention held at Champeog in 1843 when it was determined to establish a provisional government in Oregon. After arguing the matter pro and con that eventful day, Joe Meek, American trapper and trail-blazer, cried out: "Who's for a divide? All in favor of the American flag, follow me!"

When the crowd began to divide it was seen that the count would be close. Then, at last, when it stood 51 for English sovereignty and 51 for American, Matthien stepped from the ranks of the Canadians and went to the American side. The result stood 52 for American sovereignty and 50 for English. Then the Englishmen present leaped on their horses and rode back to Fort Vancouver, now in the state of Washington, and Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and part of Montana were saved to the Union.

with a band of crepe on the left arm; Mrs. Lucy Huffaker and three men.

The police were keeping the sidewalks clear, but the new pickets continued to pace up and down the street. Rockefeller's secretary, C. C. Haight, said that Rockefeller knew nothing of the demonstration.

In the Tombs police court Sinclair denounced Rockefeller.

"This is the first time that a protest in the matter of human rights has been taken directly to headquarters," he said. "Usually some employe is singled out and made the scapegoat."

George Sterling, the California poet, escorted Mrs. Sinclair along the picket line. The picketers tramped steadily back and forth from Beaver street to No. 42 Broadway.

"We created no disturbance," Sinclair told the police. "This invisible government should be punished because we are. The Standard Oil and its allies constitute an invisible government. 'There are murderers at 26 Broadway,' Rockefeller knows everything that is transpiring in Colorado and is directing operations here."

FULLMAN COMPANY SCORED BY RAILROAD COMMISSION

San Francisco, April 29.—Seathing criticism of the Pullman Palace Car company's method of doing business was voiced here today in a report issued by the state railroad commission.

Among other things the report declares the company forces its employees to depend on the charity of the traveling public for a living wage, and also ordered it to correct the abuses of the tip system within 30 days. Pullman officials also were criticised for testing that $27.50 was an adequate wage for a sleeping car porter.

"It certainly is a commentary on modern business methods that a company as rich and powerful as this one should stoop to the disreputable practice to which it resorts," says the report.

WRECKAGE FLOATS ON LAKE.

Duluth, Minn., April 29.—Wreckage seen floating in Lake Superior today indicated the loss of the Capital Transportation company's coal steamship Benjamin Noble, presumably with its crew of 18.

Five other steamships were overdue following a fierce gale on the lake last night.

ALLEGED DYNAMITERS ARE GRANTED A REHEARING

Chicago, April 29.—The United States circuit court of appeals here granted this afternoon a rehearing in the cases of Olaf A. Treimoe, of San Francisco; Richard Houlhan and William Bernhardt, three of the union men convicted at Indianapolis of conspiracy to transport dynamite, on their application for a retrial which the court had granted them in a recent ruling.

The government objected to the court granting a new trial, and as a result of today's order the court will rehear their appeal application May 16.

Application for a rehearing in the cases of William Shupe, Peter Smith and George Anderson was denied.

CANAL TOLLS REPEL BILL REPORTED TO HOUSE

Washington, April 29.—The senate committee on interoceanic canals today reported the canal tolls repeal resolution to the upper house without a recommendation.

A majority of the committee favored the Simmons amendment, that repeal of American shipping's exemption from Panama canal tolls constituted no waiver of the United States' sovereign rights over the canal, but it was not actually voted into the repeal measure.

The resolution was reported by a vote of 8 to 5. By the same vote a motion by Senator Bristow for an adverse report was lost.

Senator Walsh's proposition to let the United States supreme court decide the tolls question was defeated 8 to 6.

SURGEON REPORTED KILLED.

Denver, Colo., April 29.—Adjutant General Chase announced late today that Major P. C. Lester, a surgeon, had been shot and killed by strikers at Walsenburg while wearing a Red Cross badge and dressing the wounds of injured militiamen.

GOES DOWN WITH CREW OF 18 ON LAKE SUPERIOR

Duluth, Minn., April 29.—The detached cabin of the freight steamship Benjamin Noble, reported lost earlier in the day, was found this afternoon on a reef near Minnesota point. It was considered certain that the crew of 18 went down with the vessel. The steamships Sheldon Parks, F. T. Heffelfinger, Willis King, David Z. Norton and William H. Truesdale were also still unreported. Fears were increasing that they, too, were lost.

CONFERENCE UNEVENTFUL.

Denver, Colo., April 29.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon Horace Hawkins, local legal representative of the United Mine Workers of America, called at the state house and conferred with Adjutant General John Chase. Later he said he had succeeded in stopping the fighting at Walsenburg "for an hour anyway."

How Many Soaps Can You Name Offhand?

This is not a new story, but it is worth repeating. A friend went to a large soap manufacturer and said to him: "See here, you are spending a fortune in advertising. Why do you waste your money?" "How many soaps can you name?" asked the soap manufacturer. The friend studied and named six—all advertised brands. "That's the answer," replied the soap manufacturer. Out of the hundreds of soaps made, you can name only six, and mine heads the list. "I CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO ADVERTISE."

That soap manufacturer was a large user of space in the daily newspapers. He died the other day leaving an immense fortune, and a name known from one end of the country to the other.
